Peoria Zoo Wayfinding App Gracie Noble

After clicking the Giraffe, this is the screen the audience will see. They are able to turn on the alert without favoriting the animal (see next screen). But if they were to favorite the animal, the feeding would automatically turn on.

Giraffes are the world's tallest mammal. Male giraffes (bulls) stand around 18 feet tall and females stand up to 14 feet. Males can weigh up to 3000 pounds and females up to 1500 pounds.

) Iste

Their life expectancy is 15 to 20 years.

On average, how long are Giraffe's necks?

Africa!

Colobus Monkey

Habitat:

forests, preferably along riverbanks

Features:

Colobus monkeys have long, black coats with a white stripe that runs down the sides of their back to their tail. Young Colobus monkeys are born completely white. Females remain in the group they are born in and the males leave the group to try and claim one of their own.

Size:

They can weigh between 12-32 pounds and are around 18-27 inches tall. Their tail is 20-35 inches long.

Life Expectancy: They can weigh between 12-32 pounds and are around 18-27 inches call They fail between 12-32 pounds and are around 18-27 inches tall. Their tail is 20-35 inches long.

Life Expectancy:

They can weigh between 12-32 pounds and are around 18-27 inches tall. Their tail is 20-35 inches long.

Diet:

Herbivore – Leaves, buds, seeds, shoots, and occasionally fruit

Africa!

Reproduction:

Mating occurs year round. Male colobus monkeys reach their sexual peak at 4-8 years of age and females at 4-6 years. The female normally produces one young ever 20 months. Care for the infant is divided equally between the male and female. Other females are allowed to care and sometimes even suckle their infants soon after birth. Gestation takes around 5-6 months.

